CASSIDY WINES

Welcome to our 2024 Portfolio.

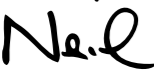

Whilst world events continue to bring challenges to the international wine business this year I am pleased to inform you that we have not experienced widespread pricing increases from our suppliers. This is of course good news as we endeavour to reward wine consumers with excellent value in their glass.

We have some new additions to our portfolio notably the Port wines from Taylors, Croft and Fonseca. We are delighted with the quality of these wines and marvel at the continued all year round appeal of Port. Also new to our list are the Champagnes from Alexandre Bonnet.

Through 2024 we will seek to add further to our portfolio to reflect more the growing trends in the wine business and indeed share the stories from our wine partners in their drive for enhanced sustainability.

Finally, on behalf of the entire team here at Cassidy Wines I wish you the very best in business in the coming 12 months.

Best regards,

Neil Cassidy
Managing Director.

Louis Jadot

From the tip of Chablis to the toe of Beaujolais, from regional, village, 1er Cru and Grand Cru wines Louis Jadot produces Burgundy and nothing but Burgundy. The familiar Bacchus head label has become the reliable stamp of quality and consistency from what can often be a confusing region.

Louis Henry Denis Jadot founded the business in 1859. His vision was to build a business with a high quality reputation. One of his key aims, as well as to make top wines, was to build a significant vineyard base. This vision remains core to the business today.

Over time, prestigious acquisitions have included Beaune Clos des Ursules, Chevalier Montrachet Les Demoiselles, the Clair Dau Estate with vineyards in Bonnes Mares, Chambertin Clos de Beze, Musigny and Gevrey Chambertin Clos St Jacques. Plus the picturesque Santenay Clos de Malte and Premier Cru holdings in Puligny Montrachet, Savigny Les Beaune, Pernand Vergelesses and Corton Grand Cru to name but a few.

Today the business is headed up by Pierre Henry Gagey, son of Andre Gagey, who was entrusted with the management of Louis Jadot in 1962 by Madame Jadot following the tragic death of her son, Louis Auguste Jadot. Pierre Henry is a passionate believer in terroir, allowing the wines to present the very essence of Burgundy.

Château des Jacques

Château des Jacques' motto is 'a great wine is a living wine', and indeed this property's wines are some of the most long-lived in the entire Beaujolais region.

The historic Château des Jacques estate, located in the village of Romanèche-Thorins in the Moulin-à-Vent appellation, is widely recognized as the most prestigious estate in Beaujolais. It was purchased by Louis Jadot in 1996, at which time Maison Louis Jadot became the first Burgundy house to own a major Beaujolais vineyard. In 2001, Louis Jadot bought another well-located vineyard in Morgon. In 2008, both vineyards, which were under the same management, were regrouped under one identity: the Château des Jacques Estates.

Bouchard Aîné et Fils

In the very heart of Burgundy, 10 generations dedicated to pinot noir and chardonnay excellence. The history of Bouchard Aîné & Fils is a long voyage through time, closely linked to Burgundy and especially the town of Beaune. Since the start of the 18th century, the archives record wine sales by the Bouchard family.

Since its founding in 1750, this great wine house is devoted to the excellence and renown of the region's noble grapes. The 18th-century Hôtel du Conseiller du Roy in Beaune houses the cellars where is perpetuated, generation after generation, the tradition of quality, elegance and prestige in selecting and making fine wines from Burgundy and other selected vineyards in France. www.bouchard-aïne.fr

Blaye Côtes de Bordeaux

Blaye-Côtes de Bordeaux is the appellation title for Côtes de Bordeaux wines made specifically in the Blaye district, just across the Gironde from the Médoc. Wines once made under the Premières Côtes de Blaye appellation are now sold under this newer title.

St Emilion

First officially classified in 1954, St Emilion is one of Bordeaux's largest winemaking appellations, producing more wine than Lustrac, Moulis, St Estèphe, Pauillac, St Julien and Margaux combined. Many of the region's finest vineyards can be found atop the steep limestone slopes of the village itself, although a fledgling band of garagiste producers are eschewing terroir to make small-batch, deeply-concentrated wines from their homes.

Pomerol

Pomerol is a much-respected red wine appellation in the Bordeaux region of southwestern France. Both historically and physically, it stands apart from other Bordeaux appellations. Pomerol is the smallest appellation in the Bordeaux region and covers an area of 813 hectares (0.7% of the Bordeaux wine production area).

Médoc

The Médoc is arguably the most famous red wine district in the world, home to many of the greatest and most renowned names of Bordeaux. Stretching north-west from the city of Bordeaux with the Gironde estuary to the east, the vineyards extend up to eight miles from the river and run for about 50 miles northwards. It is traditionally said that the best vines of the Médoc are those that grow within sight of the Gironde.

Haut Medoc wines are primarily made from Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot grapes, with minor amounts of Malbec, Petit Verdot, Carménère, and Cabernet Franc. These wines are complex and elegant with notes of blackberry, currant, licorice, and sometimes spices and mint.

St. Estèphe

St Estèphe is the northernmost of the most important communes of the Médoc, bordering Pauillac on its southernmost border, with only a gully and stream separating it from Château Lafite Rothschild. The wines can appear austere in youth, but the best typically display good depth of colour, pronounced acidity and tannins in youth, and are exceptionally long-lived. At their best, they are the equal of almost any Bordeaux.

Pauillac

The aristocrat of the Médoc boasts 75 percent of the region's First Growths, with Grand Cru Classés representing 84 percent of production. It's wines are characterized by both their power and finesse. They deliver firmly structured wines that age with exceptional grace. The wines typically express dusty cocoa tannins and a rich aromatic profile of blackcurrant, sweet cigar-box, lead pencil, cedar, violet, rose, iris and lilac.

St Julien

St Julien is the smallest of the 'Big Four' Médoc communes although, without any First Growths, it is recognised to be the most consistent of the main communes with many châteaux turning out impressive wines year after year. The wines can be judged as much by texture as flavour, and there is a sleek, wholesome character to the best. At their very finest they combine Margaux's elegance and refinement with Pauillac's power and substance.

Margaux

If Pauillac is the bastion of 'traditional' Red Bordeaux, Margaux represents its other facet in producing wines that are some of the region's most sensual, alluring, perfumed and elegant of all the Médoc communes. Many consider them to be the most "feminine" wines of the Médoc.

The Dufour family has been growing and raising vines since 1814. Know-how has passed down from generation to generation and the property has grown over the decades to reach an area of 38 hectares. Pascal Jolivet

The Jolivet family entered the wine business in 1926. However, it was in 1990 that Pascal Jolivet built a brand new winery to facilitate the development and production of his wines. Inspired by the Champenois facilities that he knew so well the cellar in Sancerre is equipped with temperature controlled stainless steel tanks and other state of the art facilities. In 1993 inspired by Jacques Jolivet Pascal purchased 6 hectares of vineyards. In 1995 6 hectares of vines were purchased in Pouilly Fume. Wine Spectator has twice ranked Pascal Jolivets Sancerre among the best 100 wines of the year.

Dopff & Irion

From one generation to the next, the DOPFF and IRION families, whose origins date back to the 16th century, have made the most out of their heritage: the vineyard and Riquewihr castle. At present, the historic edifice is the headquarters of Maison Dopff & Irion. Created in 1945, this company elaborates wine from a 27-hectare vineyard within the district of Riquewihr, as well as the 5 hectares, belonging to Clos Château d'Isenbourg. This is a fairly large size, in light of the fragmentation of the properties in Alsace (60% of farmers own surface areas, representing less than one hectare) The surname of the Dopff family has always been linked to the district of Riquewihr, officially recognized as one of the most beautiful villages in France. After World War II, René Dopff and the widow Irion, two prestigious names of the vine-growing sector in Riquewihr, joined forces, thereby initiating the start to Dopff & Irion. One of their first decisions was that of acquiring the historic castle of Riquewihr. René Dopff was an emblematic and prestigious producer, who influenced the Alsace wine industry during most of his life. Since the foundation of the winery, the harvest had always been done by hand and the wines are crafted using the utmost care. The winery is certified HVE 3 and Bee-friendly.

Domaine Tariquet Armagnac

Armagnac is Europe's oldest eau-de-vie, over 700 years of history. High quality white wines are distilled. The ageing and the blending fulfill a style of elegant and delicate eaux-de-vie close to the original fruit. After fermentation, the wines are distilled at the estate in November and December, to produce the Bas-Armagnacs. The colour of the Domaine Tariquet Bas-Armagnacs comes uniquely from the ageing in barrels. The naturally light tint is due to the alchemy between the delicately toasted oak and the eaux-de-vie, thus truly respecting their natural color.

As 'propriétaire-récoltant' (wine grower), all the Bas-Armagnacs are made exclusively from the grapes harvested from the family-owned estate's vineyards. The nobility of the eaux-de-vie is based on the quality of the distilled wines, hence the meticulous care given to the cultivation of the vines. The wines from the September harvest are distilled in November and December. The distillation takes place at the estate. It is done in authentic armagnac copper alambics, grape variety by grape variety, using the traditional continuous distillation process. These traditional copper alambics are heated by wood fire, giving a second lease of life to the acacia vine stakes. Then, quietly safeguarded by the estate's hundred-year-old cellars, the eaux-de-vie are aged separately for the first years in new barrels or 'pièces' as they are locally called. The Grassa family prefers to use lightly toasted barrels made from the French timber forests renowned for their fine grain. The colour of Domaine Tariquet's Bas-Armagnacs comes exclusively from the ageing in these barrels. The light tint results from the alchemy between the delicately toasted oak and the eau-de-vie, truly respecting their natural colour.

Domaine Ott

In 1896, after a tour of France's many vineyards, Marcel Ott, a young graduate in agronomy engineering from Alsace, finally found an estate that inspired him. To set the scene, we are in Provence. The Mediterranean is lapping at the shore a mere stone's throw away...

In these parts, growing vines is the legacy of ancient times. Alas, a short while before Marcel Ott's discovery, phylloxera had wreaked havoc on the vines. The land was cheaper but the vineyards would have to be replanted. The wine had lost a great deal of its soul in the vineyard's reconstruction. Marcel Ott bought several estates and began renovating them with the determined ambition to create great Provencal wines from noble grape varieties. Today, 120 years later, cousins Christian and Jean-François Ott dedicate their life to their ancestor's love for the site. In 2004, Domaines Ott* joined Louis Roederer and its fabulous selection of wine craftsmen. Christian and Jean-François run three estates: Château de Selle, Clos Mireille and Château Romassan. Each of these properties has its own individual charm and personality. Each can be proud of their extremely elegant rosé, red and white wines. In their cellars reigns one sovereign wine: the famous "Coeur de Grain".

Château de Berne

Located in the inland Haut Var, the Château de Berne estate dates back to the 11th century with over three centuries of winemaking tradition. It covers more than 500 hectares of land, of which about 130 hectares are vineyards, which is in the process of being converted to organic. The estate benefits from a slightly high altitude compared with much of Provence, and therefore a larger diurnal range, as well as poor limestone soils. It produces 10 grape varieties: Syrah, Grenache, Cinsault, Sémillon, Ugni-Blanc, Viognier, Cabernet Sauvignon, Carignan, Rolle and Mourvèdre. All rosés are fermented in stainless-steel tanks and top cuvées are matured in oak barrels. The combination of passion, historical know how and advanced technology ensures their wine's continued high quality. Provence is simply the home of best rosés and Château de Berne is proud to bring the most premium ones of France in its authentic form.

Ô de Rosé

Ô de Rosé is a tribute to our singular terroir, to the scenic grandeur of the local landscape and to the heartening Northern wind protecting our vineyards. It also reflects our wonder towards Languedoc, a country of fragrance, water, wind, bright lights and colours. The vineyards are rooted in the foothills of the Massif Central and plateauing over breath taking views of the nearing Pyrenees and waters of the Mediterranean Sea. This patchwork of climates and terroirs is the secret behind Ô: the grapes are slowly matured in perfect weather conditions and produce a crisp and elegantly balanced wine.

The village is nestled in the far reaches of the Laignes valley, on the borders of the Côte des Bar between Champagne and Burgundy. The rolling hillsides emerged during the Jurassic period and growers have been tending its vineyards patiently for centuries. Its name and history are plural, but its reputation is unique: Les Riceys. It is the most sought-after cru in the Côte des Bar, and the excellence of its Pinot Noirs has earnt three AOCs: Champagne, Coteaux Champenois and Rosé des Riceys. Domaine Alexandre Bonnet has become the leading grower champagne (RM) from this unique terroir. It became the first area of Les Riceys to be certified "Haute Valeur Environnemental" in 2015. Herbicides no longer interfere with grass growth. Horses are once again used in the vineyards, as long as the steepness of the hillsides allow. Old grape varieties are being reintroduced: Buret, Blanc Vrai, Petit Meslier and Arbane ; alongside Pinot Noir.

Louis Roederer

Founded in 1776, the Champagne House was inherited and renamed by Louis Roederer in 1833. An aesthete and an entrepreneur, the new owner took the visionary decision to expand his vineyards in order to master every stage of the winemaking process. In doing so, he forged the wine's unique style, character, and taste. In the mid-19th century, by acquiring some Grand Cru vineyards in Champagne, Louis Roederer went against the conventions of the time. He nurtured his vineyards, developed an understanding of the specific characteristics of each parcel and methodically acquired the best vineyards.

Believing that a great wine depends on the quality of its soil, respect for tradition and a clear vision of the future, Louis Roederer laid the foundations of the Champagne House that bears his name today.

Voted The Worlds Most Admired Champagne Brand by Drinks International Wine Intelligence 2020!

Pio Cesare

The Pio Cesare winery was founded by our great-great grandfather, Cesare as a name and Pio as a Family name, in 1881 in the city of Alba, the capital of the Langhe region, and today we are the only wine producer who has survived and still operates in the heart of the old town center of Alba. For this reason, we are proudly allowed to use the Alba's crest on our labels. After 140 years of history, we remain a Family run business, run by the Fifth generation.

Pio Cesare owns more than 75 hectares of premium vineyards located in the great exposures and positions in multiple different villages of the Barolo and the Barbaresco region. Pio Cesare has been one of the great pioneers of Barolo and Barbaresco, in the Italian market and around the world, and today we carry on our tradition and history producing wines which faithfully represent and reflect our great terroirs, year after year, vintage after vintage.

Gaja

The Gaja winery has delivered pioneering work in wine production for five generations and it is still on top of the list in the international wine world of Wine Spectator, Suckling, Decanter and others. Gaja's story began in 1859, when Giovanni Gaja started producing Barbaresco. Since then, five generations of Gajas have been producing wines in Piedmont's Langhe hills, Giovanni's son, Angelo (grandfather of today's Angelo Gaja), was blessed with ambition and vision. Clotilde Rey, whom he married in 1905, inspired him to establish the tradition to which the Gajas have adhered ever since total dedication to uncompromising quality. Angelo Gaja, joined the Winery in 1961 and combined his respect for the traditions of the Langhe with bold innovations in the vineyards and the cellars. Today, Angelo along with his family, have been continuing a family tradition that has never stopped since 1859. The Gaja Winery owns 96ha (240 acres) of vineyards in the Barbaresco district - Barbaresco and Treiso - and the Barolo district - Serralunga d'Alba and La Morra. In 1994, Gaja acquired their first wine estate in Tuscany, Pieve Santa Restituta in Montalcino (27ha) of vineyards and Ca' Marcanda, located in the Bolgheri district in the municipality of Castagneto Carducci. The title "Godfather of Italian Wines" is very common when you Google the word "Gaja".

Riva Leone

The name Riva Leone is taken from the name of a wine merchant from Alba in Northern Italy, who at the beginning of 20th century decided to bottle the wine that he sold on tap to his clients. The house portrayed in the label shows his shop in the countryside of Alba. Italian classics such as Gavi and Barbera have been around for many a year, but the advent and uptake of modern winemaking techniques by producers such as Riva Leone is bringing these great wines to the attention of a whole new audience. Produced and bottled in a state of the art winery in Priocco, Riva Leone is a fantastic example of modern Italian winemaking at its best.

Sacchetto

We are ... A FAMILY, A COMPANY, A WINERY
A FAMILY that means winemakers for almost 100 years that are doing this with the same passion of the 20's. A COMPANY that means attention, passion, and great flexibility.
We are constantly investing in the productive process, in new machinery and technology, paying attention to the land, the grapes and our roots.
The Sacchetto Company was established in the early '900s, in the Veneto region where the wine was an integral part of the history, culture and economy. The founder was Sisto Sacchetto, who set up the vine and winemaking trade in the early postwar period. Thanks to his technical and sales skills, the flourishing trade developed into a more structured reality between the '50's and the '60's, the Italian economic boom years.
Filiberto, still operative in the Trebaseleghe Headquarters, strengthened the company that in the decades to come would develop all over the world. Filiberto has not forgotten his father's project, and has spread it completely to his sons, Paolo and Beatrice. Together they lead this modern company with an innovative sight, on the strength of their skill of reading the international market.
A WINERY that means Mixing the prestigious wine tradition with today's taste using the own experience in an innovative way. Our experience leads us to express always in a different way the warmth and unicity of our native land.

Cognola

The Cognola wine range comes from the prestigious Sartori winery. The Sartori Winery is located in the north of Verona, among the hills of Valpolicella, just in the heart of the classic production area. It was here that in 1898 Pietro Sartori bought a vineyard and the seventeenth-century Villa Maria which is still the headquarters of the company. Today, Andrea Sartori, Pietro's great-grandson, is at the helm. Like his forefathers, he has taken steps to broaden the reputation of Sartori di Verona and to guarantee the quality behind it. In 2002, the company joined with Cantina Cognola, giving the family rare guaranteed access to more than 6,200 acres of high-quality grapes in the Soave and Valpolicella zones, where few wine houses control their own vineyards. In 2003, Sartori hired the renowned Franco Bernabei as consulting winemaker. His work with the winery marks a return to Bernabei's roots: although he has lived in Tuscany for over 25 years, he is, in fact, a native son of the Veneto.

Doppio Passo

Doppio Passo is a tribute to Carlo and Maria Botter who, together, founded our company in 1928, building it STEP by STEP, day after day, working together to achieve a shared goal. Two different but complementary personalities. In Puglia, in our Masseria Doppio Passo, as well as with all our partners, we work side by side, managing and controlling the entire production chain from the vineyards to the bottle. Not only, DOPPIO PASSO in the game of football, National Sport of the Bel Paese, is the common way to describe a style of play, spectacular exciting and engaging, linked to moments of aggregation where enthusiasm grows from action to action. This is how two different meanings come together and become complementary in the expression and representation of our wines: tasting a glass of DOPPIO PASSO, sip after sip, you can appreciate the generous and soft characteristics typical of the terroir of the places of origin but also the eccentric and persuasive personality of each wine.

Barone Ricasoli

Ricasoli – a name that has been synonymous with wine since 1141 – is the fourth oldest family – run wine estate in the world. The Ricasoli family tree, reproduced on print in 1584, is also one of the first references that we have regarding the Chianti area. After centuries of defending the land and the feudal lords, the Ricasoli's were the first to dedicate themselves to the development of agriculture and of the vineyards. "I would like to make wines that embody a place. When you close your eyes you imagine these cypress trees, these hills, this landscape; you know exactly where you are, the unmistakable style of the terroir where the wines of Brolio were born" Francesco Ricasoli.

Oynos Organic

Oynos wines are made from grapes cultivated without recourse to synthetic fungicides, herbicides or fertilizers. These organically-grown grapes have a head start and are the best base for quality wines because they are not in a cycle of chemical dependency. In the vineyards where the environment is respected and biodiversity encouraged, the vines grow in a living soil, full of worms and bacteria. This enables them to draw upon the optimum levels of minerals from the soil. In turn these healthy vines develop better resistance to disease and go on to produce fruit for years to come.

In Bolognano, on the hills near Pescara, every year Zaccagnini produces wonderful wines that are popular worldwide, winning many highly prestigious international wine awards. Our excellence, the passion and dedication with which we perform our work, our close bond with the earth and our love of art have made our “Tralcetto” wines the pride and joy of the wine-making industry in Abruzzo on an international scale. Today the company produces approximately more than 6 million bottles every year and exports over 85% of its production to 45 countries in 5 continents. Indeed, “Wine, art of man” has been the slogan for the company philosophy since 1984, when internationally renowned artist Joseph Beuys presented his “Defending Nature” project in the barrel store. From then on, the rooms and outdoor spaces of Cantina became the venue of a permanent exhibition, with sculptures and works by artists of global prestige.

Missetti

The Appassimento method is the same method used for the Amarone wines. In this case, this Appassimento from Missetti comes from southern Italy and is made from other grapes. Yet there are a number of comparisons to be discovered in it’s taste. The scent is very rich, you smell a lot of dark fruit and tones of roasted coffee. There is also a lot to discover in the taste: wood, cherries and a high concentration. This is really an amazing top wine!

Feudi di San Gregorio, Avellino

Since its creation, back in 1986, Feudi di San Gregorio focused on Campania native varietals - such as Greco, Fiano and Aglianico - by applying academic studies and on-field research to a territory, Irpinia, where quality-oriented viticulture always existed. Feudi works today on 300 hectares of vineyards, articulated in over 800 parcels; each parcel - differing from the others in its altitude, exposure or inclination - has been extensively studied by the winery to preserve the terroir biodiversity and create extraordinary crus. Thanks to its soils, mostly volcanic and sandy, vines survived the phylloxera spreading in 1910, allowing Irpinia to become one of the new European viticulture birthplaces. Deeply anchored to this unique terroir, Feudi di San Gregorio expressed its vision through innovative codes, from design and contemporary art to the gourmet restaurant located inside the winery (Marennà). Exposed for two editions at the Biennale of Architecture in Venice, Feudi winery intends to conjugate beauty and absolute quality.

Condesa

This wine is 100% Albariño variety grapes. The vineyards, planted in sandy and granitic soils, are located in the Valle do Salnés. Part of this wine has been fermented in barrels of 500 or 600 litres and the rest has been kept on its lees for approximately four months. The result is a very structured wine, with a great volume in mouth that shows the character of this grape, mythical in Galicia, in all the stages of the tasting process.

Emilio Moro

The history of Bodegas Emilio Moro starts in 1932, the year when Emilio Moro was born in the town of Pesquera de Duero at the heart of the "golden mile" of what is known today as Ribera del Duero. His father, also Emilio, had already been making wine since the beginning of the century, and instilled in him all his love and attachment to the land. It would be Emilio Moro, member of this second generation of the family, who would in turn transmit this passion for wine to his children, the third generation, who currently manage the winery. That is how Bodegas Emilio Moro has known how to grow and develop to world renown.

Just as to make a great wine you need the right balance of alcohol, acidity and structure, to create a great winery, a groundwork of four main pillars needs to be established: tradition, innovation, social responsibility, and passion.

Emilio Moro, DO Bierzo

Bodegas Emilio Moro first started producing wines from DO Bierzo in 2016. The objective was to work on the aromatic profile of the Godello grape and know all its variables. This project was born with the challenge of adding a quality white to the already known range of its Emilio Moro and Cepa 21 reds. "We intend to produce a fine, elegant wine with fat, body and aging capacity," explains Jose Moro, representative of the third generation of the Moro family.

Buil & Giné

For centuries, both vineyard and wine have been present in the Priorat region. Although it is acknowledged that Romans cultivated the land for the production of wine, it was during the eleventh century that under the protection of the Prior of the Carthusian monastery of Santa Maria de Escaladei that the Priorat, with its characteristic slate "licorella" soils, became a region synonymous to wine making.

Our family have taken an active part in our region's wine heritage for at least six generations. Above all, we are farmers, growers which have inherited the tradition and expertise passed on along the generations, enriched over centuries by the arrival of new civilisations to this domain close to the mediterranean.

Our wines honestly represent where they come from, they contain the soul of their land, their grapes, and their people. They represent the "Terroir" from which they come.

Their choice and their expressiveness make them great friends of the culture, traditions and gastronomy that have seen them born. They take us on a trip to beautiful landscapes and shake hands with their people. They share and are made to share.

Jose Maria de Fonseca

Innovation and tradition are the keywords defining the work of José Maria da Fonseca. Owned and managed by the same family for close to 200 years, the focus has always been on updating and looking ahead, never on standing still to reflect back on former glories. José Maria da Fonseca initiated the business in 1834, and his passion for winegrowing has been shared by the family ever since, all of whom strive to maintain the high standards set by the founder. Shouldering the responsibility of what it means to be the oldest producer of table wines and Setubal Moscatel in Portugal, José Maria da Fonseca follows the philosophy of permanent development, investing heavily in research and production methods, allying modern techniques with traditional know how.

Testimony of this can be seen at the José de Sousa Winery in the Alentejo town of Reguengos de Monsaraz, where the ancient Roman tradition of fermenting wine in clay pots maintained yet combined with the latest technology.

With its continued investment to produce quality wines of worldwide renown, José Maria da Fonseca has made a decisive contribution to the recognition Portuguese wines now enjoy abroad. The 700 hectares of vineyard and state-of-the-art winery – to rival the best anywhere in the world – result in wines that ally the accumulated experience of history with the most advanced winemaking technology.

Over and above all the resources used in producing its wines, it is the passionate commitment to the art of winemaking that best characterises the work of José Maria da Fonseca. It is this passion, rousing emotions, that José Maria da Fonseca imparts to the consumer each time he drinks one of its wines.

Karp Schreiber, Mosel

The carp is as much part of the Moselle river as it is an integral part of our coat of arms. This remarkable tradition began as far back as 1664 with fishermen who not only practised "Karp" (the Moselle Franconian word for "carp") fishing, but also viticulture. Around 1900, the Schreiber family joined the Karps through marriage and the Karp no longer had to swim alone, at least in name... Today, Jobst-Julius Karp, the 13th generation of the family, manages this traditional wine estate. Having gained a degree in oenology and viticulture engineering from Geisenheim University. He toured the world of wine from California to New Zealand, from Australia to South Africa and then back to Spain to gain experience beyond the horizon of his home country.

This collection of fine wine celebrates Yalumba's heartland, its heritage, longevity and estate with seven wines, showcasing varieties and blends iconic to both Barossa and Yalumba. Samuel's Collection celebrates the legacy established by Samuel Smith 170 years ago when he planted some of Australia's first grape vines in Barossa. Jansz

The name Jansz pays homage to Tasmania's namesake, the Dutch explorer Abel Janszoon Tasman who first sighted the island in 1642. When it was established in 1975, the Jansz vineyard was named after Tasman's ship, the Heemskerk. In 1986, esteemed Champagne house Louis Roederer partnered with the owners of Heemskerk Wines to produce Tasmania's first premium vintage sparkling wine. They saw the similarities between the climate here and in Champagne. In 1997, the Hill-Smith family purchased the vineyard and began the journey that has seen Jansz Tasmania become the most highly-regarded sparkling wine house in Australia. It's the essence of a partnership between the environment and winemaker. The cool Tasmanian climate creates spectacular beauty in nature, and artful wines.

Nautilus Estates

The natural balance and mathematical spiral of the Nautilus shell has inspired us to create expressive, textural, precisely crafted wines at Nautilus Estate since 1985, the early days of Marlborough winegrowing.

Back in those days, there were around 80 wineries in NZ. Today there are over 700. Yet we remain small, under the same family ownership, and committed to making wines 100% from the stunning Marlborough region of New Zealand.

Winemaker Clive Jones joined Nautilus in 1998 and since then, the estate has been rewarded by numerous accolades and trophies over the years as well as positions for Clive on both Marlborough Winegrowers and the national NZ Winegrowers boards. But while we always appreciate recognition from our peers, it is belief in the marriage of fine wine with food that inspires each new vintage.

Opawa

Produced by family-owned winery Nautilus Estate, Opawa meaning "smoky river" in Maori, is a vineyard located on the old river bed of the historic Opawa River in Marlborough. The stony river gravels absorb the sun's warmth during the day, radiating it back onto the grapes at night, evolving the delicious aromas and flavours in these wines. Grapes are picked in the cool of night, under the moonlight, to ensure these pristine flavours are perfectly preserved in the wines.

Waterford Estates

Waterford Estate is situated in one of the world’s most visually arresting pockets of paradise. Nestled in the picturesque Blaauwklippen Valley, in the world renowned Stellenbosch region, this 120 hectare property owned by Jeremy and Leigh Ord and managed by partner and Cellar master Kevin Arnold. The Estate boasts old citrus groves, rolling lawns, water features and fragrant lavender and rosemary beds. You’d be forgiven for thinking you were in the heart of Provence or the Spanish countryside, with your first glimpse of this enchanting realm. However, we are immensely proud of our uniquely South African location and the rich diversity of our indigenous flora and fauna.

The winery was styled along the engaging terracotta design and was the result of winemaker Kevin Arnold and architect Alex Walker teaming up to create the home of Waterford Estate wines. The centre piece of the magnificent courtyard is the Waterford Estate fountain. This feature has been immortalized in the Waterford Estate label and represents a fundamental component of our philosophy.

We believe in the old adage of ‘less is more’. There is nothing pretentious or ostentatious about the estate, rather the visual impact is one of a seamless whole, which complements rather than detracts from the surrounding natural beauty. Welcome to our world, a world where the passing of time and the change in seasons only add rich layers of character and charm to the scene.

Gato Negro

Gato Negro's history dates back to the 1960's when it was first released in Chile and as such it is one of the country's oldest and best known wines. The grapes come mostly from Chile's Central Valley, a region that is characterised by its mild Mediterranean climate. Surrounded by the Andes Mountains, the warm, sunny vineyards benefit from a tempering maritime influence provided by both coastal sea breezes as well as the cold air which sweeps down from the Andes, which converge through the cross-cutting valleys. All of which ensures the grapes ripen slowly developing maximum flavour potential. Voted Top 10 World Wine Brands by Drinks International Wine Intelligence 2020!

Mancura

At Morandé Wine Group, we pride ourselves to be the guardians of its majesty. And following Mancura's example, our philosophy commits us to caring for the ecosystem and to respect our soils and the surrounding communities. Viña Morandé

The Morandé story began 20 years ago in 1996 with a plan to make great and innovative wines of the highest quality with grapes from vineyards in Chile's most interesting wine valleys.

We were pioneers in creating and planting vineyards in Casablanca. Today the valley enjoys great international prestige and has opened the door to other coastal vineyards in Chile. We were also the first to believe in the great potential of the Maule Valley and the old, traditional varieties seldom seen today, such as Carignan, Cinsault, Garnacha and País.

San Pedro 1865

Viña San Pedro was founded in 1865 by the Correa Albano brothers in the Curicó Valley. They were renowned as pioneers for bringing Old Continent varieties to the valley. Since then, San Pedro has become one of the country's most important wineries and exporters, with a presence in over 80 markets across five continents.

With over 150 years' history, Viña San Pedro boasts one of the most extensive vineyard areas in Latin America, spanning approximately 1,200 hectares. In parallel, the winery has over 1,500 hectares across the main viticultural valleys in Chile, allowing it to produce wines which stand out for their exceptional quality and which reflect the winery's exploratory spirit.

In the year 2001, a place with unique characteristics was discovered to set up the Cachapoal Andes winery, a modern construction fit for the finest exponents of Chilean viticulture. Its aim is to produce, promote and commercialize wines, which support the winemaking and lend credentials to the rest of the San Pedro portfolio.

Baron Philippe de Rothschild Escudo Rojo

Escudo Rojo is the Spanish translation of the German "Rote Schild", which means red shield. By giving her name to the wine, Baroness Philippine de Rothschild showed that the Rothschild family had come to Chile to stay. Escudo Rojo holds out the promise of the refined and elegant expression of French and native grape varieties rooted in the Chilean terroirs. This high-quality wine is a perfect example of the art of blending, the real hallmark of Baron Philippe de Rothschild. The combination of different grape varieties gives this wine its distinctive character, setting it apart from many other Chilean wines traditionally made from a single grape variety.

Bodegas Catena Zapata Vineyards

Bodegas Catena Zapata

Great wines begin in the vineyard. Our vision is to make rich and unforgettable wines that are true to the special place they come from. The story of Catena is the story of Argentine wine. Founded in 1902, Argentina's Bodega Catena Zapata is known for its pioneering role in resurrecting Malbec and in discovering extreme high-altitude terroirs in the Andean foothills of Mendoza. The family's Adrianna Vineyard at almost 5,000 feet elevation has been called the Grand Cru of South America. "Nicolás Catena Zapata is justly credited with putting Argentinean wines on the world map—by the best expedient of focusing entirely on quality. It's great to know he has started a wine dynasty, too." Jancis Robinson

Adrianna Vineyard

First planted in 1992 the Adrianna Vineyard in the Gaultallary region of the Uco Valley in Mendoza is interesting for a number of reasons. Firstly it is at an altitude of almost 4,500ft. Secondly there are a number of different soil structures within the vineyard which give the wines a unique identity.

Catena Alta

In the mid-nineties, in an effort to produce a super-premium wine, the winemaking team of Catena began an in-depth investigation into the yields from specially selected, high altitude vineyards, identifying the individual rows that produce the best fruit. Catena Alta is an assemblage of these historic rows within the Catena family's estate vineyards. The blend of these rows, like the blend of musical notes that compose a symphony, creates a wine that is layered and complex, concentrated yet nuanced.

Catena Appellations

In Burgundy, the Vins de Village are wines that come from grapes grown in the territory of certain villages which give their name to the appellation, such as Volnay, Pommard, Meursault or Vosne-Romanée. In a similar manner, the rural towns of Lunlunta, Vista Flores, San Carlos, Tupungato, Agrelo and La Consulta lend their names to the beautiful historic vineyards that surround them. In France, the Village vineyards are small, and often owned by siblings and cousins within the same family. This is due to the Napoleonic code, which establishes that at a person's death his or her land is divided equally among his or her heirs. As a Latin country, Argentina shares the Napoleonic code, and over half of the vineyards in Mendoza are less than four hectares in size and owned by multiple family members. The country life of the Mendoza Villages is ruled by the Saturday asado/barbecue with friends and family, by the daily afternoon siesta and by the Sunday church visit and the occasional wedding or baptism. The flavors of our Catena Appellation "Village" wines express the diversity of terroir and the historic farming customs of these local families.

Catena Varietals

The Catena wines are a blend of single varietal lots from the Catena family's vineyards. Each vineyard is divided into lots that are harvested separately, and specially prepared to be part of the final blend of each Catena wine: Cabernet Sauvignon, Malbec and Chardonnay. By blending components from different terroirs and altitudes, we aim to create the most balanced and expressive wine. Although we have found that most of the Catena wines are consumed shortly after release, we have been pleased to see that they age beautifully for ten to twenty years.

Ménage à Trois

Ménage à Trois originated as a blend of three red varietals, created in 1996 by two psychiatric professionals at the Folie à Deux Winery in St. Helena, California. Capturing wine lovers' imagination through word of mouth, the offering was soon expanded to white and rosé blends as well. Continuing to grow, the Ménage à Trois brand increased significantly after the brand was added to the Trinchero Family Estates portfolio in 2004. Ménage à Trois is credited with creating the Red Blend category and defining the American Super Premium Red Blend segment, elevating the brand to iconic status within the wine and spirits industry.

Iron and Sand

Born from the grit of Paso Robles, CA, Iron + Sand is a nostalgic nod to the natural draw of the historic hot springs, Iron Spring and Sand Spring, that propelled Paso Robles into a bustling destination known as "California's oldest watering place". Iron and sand are also important elements in the wine's classic Paso terroir, as the sturdy iron trellising supports the bearing vines and the alluvial, well-drained sandy soils are the perfect match for Cabernet Sauvignon. Sourced predominantly from two sustainably farmed vineyards within the Paso Robles AVA, our winemaker Lee Miyamura uses neutral oak allowing the Paso Robles terroir to shine through.
